“ As a young child in the 80's my parents would take me to the VP Fair in downtown St. Louis every year to celebrate the 4th of July. One of my fondest childhood memories is Dad putting me up on his shoulders as we walked through the crowd. I felt like I could see people for miles all around me and Dad had me on top of the world.

I have SO many wonderful memories but this is one of my first. I miss you so much.
