“ Sherry (and her friend, Marsha) moved to Texas in 1978 and Sherry hired on at USSteel. She and I met at work and quickly became best friends. We were always doing something. She loved going to the beach at Galveston and laying in the sun. She would pile as many of her Texas friends in her Rally Sport Camero, and away we would go straight from work. Radio blasting Bob Seger and laughing until our faces hurt. Come the weekend, we would all go dancing. And sometimes for a weekend breakfast she would make her mother's chocolate gravy and biscuits! She was very popular and had so many friends. Everyone instantly connected with her. She was always laughing, and many times served as our voice of reason. When gasoline wasn't available to purchase that cut out road trips to the beach. So she went to KMart to buy a kiddie pool for our backyard. Again, her love of the sun. There were many trips to the Guadalupe River in New Braunfels. Floating down the river and camping out was always a fun time. I visited her family in Booneville and she visited my family in Texas. We were like sisters. I would later serve as her maid of honor, and when she found out she was pregnant with Bridget, we both cried tears of joy. She was so happy and excited about her daughter's arrival. No matter the distance between Texas and Mississippi, we always remained in contact. I'm very grateful for all the laughter, tears and memories that best friends shared. Though in recent years we weren't in touch, distance never changed the fact that she was my best friend. I tried to keep in touch with her but she wasn't able to reach out. I will miss her very much. She did have God in her heart. I know she's with our Father and has peace. No more pain for her. I pray our heavenly Father continues to watch over Bridget, Randy and Tina's family members and gives them comfort. To my best friend, Too Tall Sherry, no more 'against the wind'....fly angel fly. Someday we will meet again.
