“ Tracy, my oldest brother as I referred to him, was a quiet man, not to talkative. But a man with a big heart, a helping hand, and loads of love. Many memories, but one is when we were very young (I first gradeanf Tracy I. Kindergarten). Winter in Chicago (where we were born and raised in those elementary years), lots of snow. Darrell was 3yrs old, Tracy and I put Darrell into a grocery buggy in the grocery parking lot (on corner littlest from where we lived). Well, pushing him around and then we decided to push him and buggy into a 4-6 foot snow drift. Well needless to say, Darrell and buggy were completely buried. Tracy and I thought it was the funniest thing at that time and couldn't stop laughing. Darrell not so much!!
